Seminar on Intellectual Property Rights Considerations for Mathematical Research

Organized by Department of Mathematics

Objective of the Programme:

The seminar aimed to show how important Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) are in encouraging research, innovation, and academic honesty. It was designed to teach students, teachers, and researchers about the advantages and responsibilities of IPR, helping to create a culture of respect for intellectual property in academic institutions.

Report of the Programme:

The Department of Mathematics, Periyar Maniammai Institute of Science & Technology organized a seminar on "Intellectual Property Rights Considerations for Mathematical Research" on February 8, 2025.

The programme began with a welcome address by Dr. B. Sridevi, Assistant Professor at Periyar Maniammai Institute of Science & Technology. Dr. A. Sasikala, Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Mathematics, gave the presidential address. Dr. C. Vimala, Associate Professor, introduced the chief guest. Dr. S. Kumaran delivered a special lecture on "Intellectual Property Rights Considerations for Mathematical Research." The lecture covered the economic significance of IPR, legal frameworks, patents, trademarks, designs, copyrights, and geographical indications. The session ended with a vote of thanks by Dr. P. Geetha, Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

Outcomes of the programme

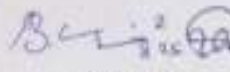

Seminar on Intellectual Property Rights Considerations for Mathematical Research

Organized by Department of Mathematics

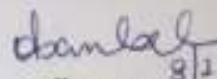

Outcomes of the Programme:

After completing the lecture, the participants

- Gained a better understanding of the different types of intellectual property rights and their importance in protecting academic work.
- Acquired knowledge about the processes involved in securing patents, copyrights, trademarks, and other forms of intellectual property rights.
