Report of the Event

Dr.R.K.Madhumathi completed her Bachelor Degree in Civil Engineering from Periyar Maniammai College of Technology for women. She did her post-graduation in soil Mechanics and Foundation Engineering in College of Engineering Guindy, Anna University during the year 2009. She received her doctoral degree from Anna University in the year 2020. She is the first awardee of Anna Centenary Fellowship of Anna University. Her research interest includes Deep Foundation, Deep Excavation and numerical investigations on Geotechnical Engineering. Piles are slender members which transfer the loads to deeper soil or rock of high bearing capacity bypassing the soil of lower bearing capacity at shallow depth. They are generally preferred when heavy structural loads have to be transferred through weak subsoil to firm strata. Piles are also used to support structures such as transmission towers, offshore platforms and basement mats subjected to uplifting forces. These piles are also subjected to lateral loads of significant magnitude. One such situation is induced lateral force on piles due to ground movement. Ground movements may occur because of movements due to ground instability and also due to a changing stress-state like deep excavation, tunneling and embankments leading to volume changes within the soil. Changes in the stress state in the ground due to deep excavation cause deformations of the surrounding soil layers and displacements of the foundations of existing structures. This situation may be risky, especially for tall buildings and historical structures. The accurate estimation of these displacements, as well as a safe design of the foundation, becomes a vital task for geotechnical engineers. Due to increase in construction of underground facilities and structures requiring many basement levels; the excavation of ground below several meters becomes necessary. Limiting the damages to neighbouring facilities adjacent to an excavation is a major design consideration when developing amenities in congested urban areas. The ground movement happening over a region by excavation is also a prime concern for geotechnical engineers. Additional forces on foundations due to ground movements are high particularly for foundations like piles and designing them for such situations becomes necessary particularly in the present scenario of deep excavations and underground constructions in urban areas.

Report of the Event :

The theme of the World Environment Day 2021 is Ecosystem Restoration-Resetting the relationship with nature. As it is an immediate action required to revive damaged ecosystems such as Land ecosystem, forest ecosystem, Urban ecosystem, Wet land ecosystem, Ocean and coastal ecosystem, etc. The Centre for Energy and Environment(CEE), Department of Civil Engineering and Environment Club of Periyar Maniammai Institute of Science and Technology organized a Webinar on Air Quality Management on the eve of World Environment Day, June 5th, 2021, In order to give more emphasize on Urban ecosystem, it was decided to arrange a webinar of this kind. Dr. G. Venkatesan, Asst.Professor (Sr. Gr.), Department of Civil Engineering, University College of Engineering, Tiruchirappalli, Anna University Tiruchirappalli acted as a Resource person to deliver the lecture on Air Quality Management. More than 60 participants from various institutions were joined the Webinar.Dr. R. Jayanthi, Professor and Head, Department of Civil Engineering started the Webinar with Welcome address. Dr. J. Santhosh, Director i/c, Centre for Energy and Environment gave a brief note about the resource person. Dr. G. Venkatesan delivered the lecture on Air Quality Management. He narrated the sources of Air pollutants, Primary and Secondary pollutants, their causes and the effects. He highlighted the environmental issues such as Global warming, Acid rain, thinning of Ozone Layer and its consequences. He explained the ill effects of Indoor air pollution. He explained about the measurement of Air Quality Index and described the air quality management with few case studies. At the end of his lecture, most of the participants appreciated his valuable lecture and few of them asked some queries on the parameters and control measures for air pollution in Urban area. Dr. G. Venkatesan clarified their queries in a lucid manner. The participants and the organizers were satisfied. Dr. J. Santhosh proposed the Vote of thanks. The organizers issued the feedback form through online and the participants filled the form and received their E- participation certificates from the organizers.

Report of the Event

A Three day Workshop on “Building Information Modeling Software (BIM)”, from 10th to 12th June 2021 in Virtual mode organized by the Department of Civil Engineering especially for the benefit of Polytechnic College Students. Dr. V.A.Shanmugavelu, Associate Professor, Department of Civil Engineering coordinated the Workshop.

Workshop Objective:

BIM is the foundation of digital transformation in the Architecture, Engineering and Construction Industry. BIM is the latest evolution in the building Industries replacing all traditional way like Blueprints, Drawing etc. Various Software for BIM are REVIT Architecture, Navis Work, SKETCHUP, COSTX etc.

The objective of the workshop is to enrich the knowledge on Building Information Modeling software enabled by advancements with hands on Sessions to the Participants.

First Day of the workshop focused on “REVIT ARCHITECTURE”

On Day 1, 10th June 2021, Dr. R.Jayanthi, Professor & Head, Department of Civil Engineering delivered the Welcome Address. Mr.D.Narendra Prasad, Assistant Professor/Civil Engineering introduced the resource person. Ms.S. Shyamala, General Manager and Ms.RM.Subashini, Technical Head, CADD CENTRE, Thanjavur. and the lecture was about the features of “Revit Architecture”.

Revit is a software mainly used for 3D Modelling, It will create a perfect scenario of what is going to happen at the construction site. So basically all the design clashes will be able to rectified using the Revit Model. Moreover, there is option for Structural Design and Analysis of Framing, Columns, Slabs etc. We can use this software for Rebar detailing. And the most important one is cost reduction in Estimation.

Second Day of the workshop focused on “COSTX”

On Day 2, 11th June 2021, Dr.B.Anu Priya, Associate Professor introduced the resource person of the day. Ms. B. Janani, Manager, Professional Services, Infinity PMC Solutions, Chennai delivered talk on COSTX software application in Civil Engineering Construction field.

BIM is the concept while COSTX is supporting software helpful for “Quantity Surveyor”. It is an faster, smarter and more accurate construction estimation software. The session focused on application of software in cost management, linking 2D& 3D drawings with MS Project & Primavera.

Third Day of the workshop focused on “SKTECHUP”

On Day 3, 12th June 2021, Mr.G.Thirumal Murugan, Assistant Professor/Civil Engineering introduced the resource person of the day. Ar.N.Rameshbabu, Associate Professor & Head, Department of Architecture explained about the sktechup and its features with demo.

SketchUp is a 3D modeling computer program for a wide range of drawing applications such as architectural, interior design, landscape architecture. The session highlighted the concept and techniques to draw different sections also representing the geometry, material, sections, landscaping, solids tools etc..

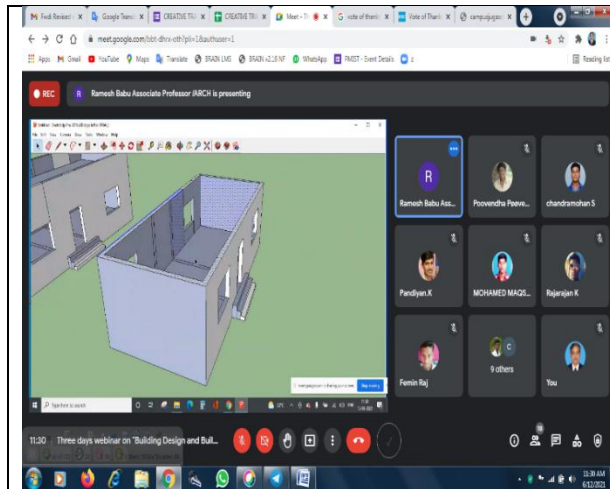

About the Participants:

30 students from AVC Polytechnic College, Mannampadal, JJ Polytechnic College, Trichy, Government Polytechnic College, Papanasam, Shanmuga Polytechnic, Tirumalisamdrum, Ponnaiyah Ramajayam Polytechnic College, Vallam and Periyar Centenary Polytechnic, Vallam participated in this workshop.

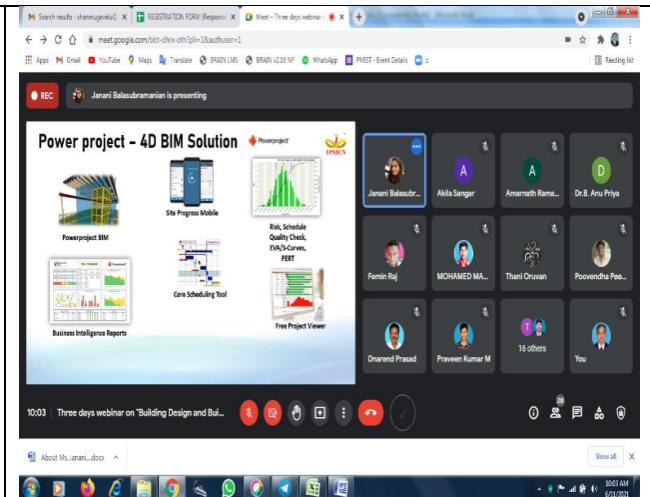

Student’s feedback:

Students gave positive feedback on the workshop and requested to conduct more workshops on current civil engineering software.

Workshop was concluded with vote of thanks delivered by Dr. V.A.Shanmugavelu, Associate Professor in Civil Engineering.
